Mayor Johnson stated the following:

Councilmembers, here is how we are going to proceed with today's districting plan item. I want to set clear expectations regarding the rules and the real-time work that must occur as each modification is taken up, voted on, and incorporated into the districting plan if approved.

To begin consideration of the recommended districting plan, I will need a motion to approve that districting plan.

Then, we will take up the largest modifications first, which duplicate some of the other proposed modifications, and then we will take up the remainder of the modifications in the order in which they were received. If a larger modification passes with a duplicate modification, it is no longer necessary to take up the separate duplicate modification. If a larger modification fails, we will still take up the duplications.

Also, the Charter requires that any modification to the plan must have been made available to the public 72 hours before public discussion. *Therefore, you may not offer any modification outside of what has been posted for today. Each modification must be an up or down vote and cannot be divided.*¹

I will call upon the modification's author to make the motion for their modification. After each motion to modify is made and seconded, the city secretary will restate the modification and the proposed map will appear on the screen. Councilmembers will then discuss the proposed modification as we would any amendment, with three rounds, and city council will then vote on the modification. A modification requires a simple majority vote.

However, because adoption of the final districting plan will require a $\frac{3}{4}$ vote of the members of the city council, if modified, I will accept a procedural motion increasing the voting threshold for modifications before accepting the main motion to approve. The proposed special rule of order, applicable to this item only, will raise the requirement to accept a modification of the recommended districting plan to a $\frac{3}{4}$ vote of the members of the city council. Approving this special rule of order requires a majority vote of the entire membership.²

Our consultant, ARCBridge, Sam Mathur and his team, will incorporate each modification as it is adopted. After the first modification is incorporated into the districting plan, each subsequent modification will be analyzed in real time by ARCBridge to ensure that the proposed modification meets the required criteria.

If the city council wants to continue with modifications of the proposed districting plan beyond today, I will need a motion to hold the item until June 22. Council may submit additional proposed modifications to the districting plan to staff by noon on June 15, to be reviewed and considered at the June 22 city council meeting

Again, the final districting plan – whether voted on today or June 22 – must be adopted by a $\frac{3}{4}$ vote of all members of the city council if modified, otherwise, by simple majority.

As a reminder, the city council must adopt a districting plan within 45 days of the receipt of the plan by my office (June 29). June 22, is the last scheduled meeting to do so.
